Dear Parents and Caregivers

We have received our confirmed Education Review Office report and are very pleased that they have recognised the strengths and achievements of our students and staff. We would like to share some of their comments.

Since the 2014 ERO review, the school has made good progress against ERO's recommendations. This includes improved internal evaluation practices, reporting to parents in relation to the National Standards and a greater valuing of Māori language and culture.

The school is achieving equitable outcomes for many children whose learning and achievement need acceleration. Teachers collaborate to support children who require additional programmes to help them learn. A strength in the school is the strong focus on children's physical and emotional wellbeing. Then school prioritises resourcing to ensure all children have a range of meaningful opportunities to succeed in areas that match their interests and abilities.

There are some good systems for identifying areas needing development to improve the achievement of equity and excellence.

The school demonstrates progress toward achieving equity in educational outcomes, supported by effective, sustainable processes and practices.

There are good systems within the school to show the progress of individual children. Teachers use reliable assessment information to plan for children's learning. Students with additional needs are very well supported in their learning. They are valued members of the school community

The school's vision and values are based on the Māori concepts of Manaakitanga (respect), Motuhake (independence, Takohanga (responsibility) and Rangatiratanga (leadership) and are in the process of being embedded. The school values are contributing to better engagement. (To be continued)

SAFETY MAN ROAD SAFETY TRUCK

This program is an interactive visual experience to highlight situations road users might find themselves in that can result in accidents. They visited our school on Tuesday.

AIR TURBULENCE - This can affect your vehicle when you are passing, or if they are passing you.

TURNING TRUCKS - When a truck starts to turn, it may have to enter your lane to do so.

PULL OFF THE ROAD - When you pull over, make sure you pull completely off the road. Trucks are very wide and take up the entire lane.
